Moving forward with collective impact

Historically, the annual report letter has been a review of the previous year’s accomplishments. This year, we will use this opportunity to talk about what can be done.

The Richland County Foundation is positioned to make a positive difference in our community, for purposeful change, for real change. The Foundation seeks to be the entity that brings groups, ideas and projects together. Traditional, responsive grant making will always have a place in our Foundation. But we feel we can do more. It is called collective impact.

Collective impact is more robust than collaboration; it requires leaders get together frequently over the long haul to tackle a well-defined problem. Besides an investment of time, other keys to success are a common agenda, shared measurement system, mutually reinforcing activities, continuous communication and a support organization.

Collective impact works when it involves many people from a variety of organizations solving complex and systematic issues such as improving the workforce, economic development, access to healthcare, improved graduation rates and a cleaner environment.

As a first step in the process, the Foundation convened a broad spectrum of Richland County residents to get their input on the community’s issues and how to creatively, effectively and proactively invest funds.

In order for collective impact to gain traction, there needs to be a sense of urgency, support and a champion.

The Foundation aspires to be the leader in this process to make a difference.

Establish a Fund

Establishing a fund within the Foundation allows donors the freedom to specify how they want their charitable dollars to be used now and in the future. By selecting among the various options, an unrestricted fund, a field of interest fund, a donor designated fund, a donor advised fund, an agency fund, or a scholarship fund, donors can tailor their fund to be as specific or as broad as they wish in order to carry out their philanthropy.

Unrestricted Funds offer the donor and Foundation the broadest options to address and to impact the community's current and ever-changing needs.

Richland County Foundation offers a variety of instruments to allow an individual, family or organization to become a donor and realize their charitable goals. Individuals may choose to pool their resources with an already existing fund or may wish to establish a new fund.

Each year between $2,000 and $11,000 is granted to local non-profit organizations.

When Connections at the Richland County Foundation began a decade ago, the focus was to engage, foster and grow the next generation of givers. Founding Connections members include Joanne Blay, Geneva Cummins, Carl Fenyak, Terri Hamilton, Bill Naumoff, Maura Siegenthaler and Josh Taylor. Following several months of meetings, Connections was created in October of 2004 with an original fund of $5,000. Now the endowment totals more than $100,000.

Connections is looking for the next generation of philanthropists

Walter and Candace Chaffee planned a gift to the Foundation and are Legacy Society members.

The Legacy Society was created by the Board of Trustees to recognize individuals who have made plans to leave a gift to this community in partnership with the Richland County Foundation.

The Women’s Fund at the Richland County Foundation

For women, by women, for the future

The Women’s Fund at the Richland County Foundation hopes to reach a monumental goal by 2016, $1 million dollars in its endowment. In order to reach the milestone the Women’s Fund is recruiting donors. A person becomes part of the fund simply by making a monetary gift; often to celebrate or honor a special woman.

The fund was formed in 1996 to promote philanthropy among women to provide funding to programs and projects that empower women and girls to achieve their full potential.

Since its inception the Women’s Fund has awarded 157 grants totaling over $264,000.

Parenting is the focus of the grants awarded by the Women’s Fund.
